

TENNESSEE HISTORY DAY BIBLIOGRAPHY: TENNESSEE TOPICS

The Tennessee Historical Society has compiled a bibliography for National History Day topics. These topics are the most frequently selected by students. The bibliography conforms to the Chicago Manual of Style, the preferred guide for NHD projects. The ISBN, ASIN, or OCLC number has been included to assist students in locating the sources and is not required in the actual citation. The bibliography has not been formatted with hanging indents.

Students who use this resource should:

- 1) Be careful to do their own research. These sources are intended as a starting point.
- 2) Conform to the style (MLA, APA, Chicago, Turabian) required by their teacher.
- 3) Be aware that most of these sources are secondary, and that a good NHD project will rely upon primary sources to make the argument.
- 4) Annotate their bibliographic citations to explain exactly how the source was used in their project.

This bibliography is an evolving document. If you have any suggestions or additions, please contact the state coordinator at historyday@tennesseehistory.org.
